Accreditation depends on you! Peer review is the signature strength of quality assurance in educator preparation. Participation gives you access to deeper understanding of a peer program, supports quality assurance, and strengthens the profession.

Join AAQEP’s reviewer team and:

- Contribute to the profession by supporting program improvement
- Gain a deeper understanding of AAQEP’s model and principles
- Develop your professional network with peers
- Build your own professional service portfolio
- Get a close-up view of how colleagues across the country approach educator preparation

AAQEP supports reviewers with self-paced online training modules, regular webinars, role-specific resources, and staff liaisons who can answer questions along the way.

AAQEP membership is not required—just relevant experience in education practice, preparation, and/or research. Please join us!

“..."The spirit of collaboration and ‘critical friend’ stuck out for me. I felt inspired and more sure than ever that AAQEP was not just an accreditation body, but a space for mutual learning and celebration.”

“Personally, I was able to utilize my leadership skills that I do not use in my daily job. It allowed me to reflect on my current role at my institution and reminded me that I am a leader and need to continue seeking out opportunities. I truly felt appreciated and valued.”
